Third-Party Supplier Registration

Q: How does a supplier register as a Third-Party Supplier within PHI 's jurisdictions?

A: You will find the information you need to register with us by using the link labeled Register with Us at one of the following website links:

ACE: <https://www.atlanticcityelectric.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/RegisterWithUs.aspx>

Delmarva DE: <https://www.delmarva.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/DE/RegisterWithUs.aspx>

Delmarva MD: <https://www.delmarva.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/MD/RegisterWithUs.aspx>

Pepco DC: <https://www.pepco.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/DC/RegisterWithUs.aspx>

Pepco MD: <https://www.pepco.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/MD/RegisterWithUs.aspx>

Click on Register for the Supplier Contract Management System. As part of the registration process, each TPS must complete the New 'TPS Online Registration System' Setup and provide the required documentation mentioned in the application.

Q: How long is the supplier registration process?

A: Once your registration documentation is reviewed and determined to be complete, you will be scheduled for EDI compatibility testing according to the current schedule, at the link below:

<https://www.pepco.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Documents/PHIEDITestingSchedule2018updated.pdf>

Q: When will the supplier know to start enrolling customers?

A: You will not be able to enroll customers, via EDI transactions, until you receive an activation email from PHI Supplier Relations. All 814 Enrollment transactions will be rejected if sent before you are fully registered.

Q: If a supplier misplaces/forgets their access information to the Supplier Secure website; how do they get the access again?

A: If the access is misplaced/forgotten to the PHI Supplier Secure website, the supplier will have to send an email to the appropriate Supplier Relations inbox and explain their situation.

Q: Where can the EDI Implementation Guidelines be found?

A: EDI Guidelines are posted at this site: <https://www.state.nj.us/bpu/pdf/energy/edi/IG824v6-2.pdf>

Q: What bill options are supported by PHI?

A: PHI supports both dual and utility consolidated billing (UCB).

Q: What is the process to change a customer's billing option?

A: Suppliers must notify PHI of a billing option change by sending an 814-change request. PHI will reject any bill option change requests received 5 days before or 5 days after the account's scheduled meter read date.

Q: Does PHI have OBW rules?

A: PHI will reject 810 invoices received outside the bill window for accounts that are in a Final Bill status only, with the reason code OBW. The OBW rejection only affects final billed accounts; we will continue to accept 810s after the bill window for active accounts. If you miss the bill window for a final billed account, you will have to directly invoice the customer.

Q: Can a supplier put messages on the customer's billing invoice?

A: PHI supports messages for general and regulatory purposes – each message contains 4 lines total. Each line is 80 characters in length and accommodates free form text.

Q: How should suppliers notify PHI whether they want to receive an 867IU or 867MU?

A: A REF17 change request should be sent with REF17 = SUMMARY for 867MU and REF17 = DETAIL for 867IU. Suppliers cannot receive both summary and detail.

Q: How many 810-line items will PHI accept?

A: Suppliers can send up to 25 SAC Segments/lines, and the description of each charge can be up to 47 characters.

Q: What is the process for a supplier to issue a cancel/rebill?

A: PHI prefers that the supplier send the ME17 (cancel) on one day and the ME18 (rebill) on the following day.

Q: Can you accept an enrollment/drop request for a date in the future?

A: No, we do not accept future dated requests.

Q: How does a TPS obtain historical data for a customer, prior to enrollment of the customer?

A: Historical monthly usage and historical interval usage are available, free of charge, through the 867HU/HI EDI transaction. If data is not returned, please contact us.

Q: How will PHI inform a supplier if an account has interval data?

A: The enrollment response will indicate if an account is interval billed in the REF*MT segment.

Q: Where can the supplier find meter reading schedules and holiday schedules?

A: The schedules can be accessed by using the following links:

ACE - <https://www.atlanticcityelectric.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/RegisteredSuppliers.aspx>

Delmarva – <https://www.delmarva.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/DE/RegisteredSuppliers.aspx>

Pepco - <https://www.pepco.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/DC/RegisteredSuppliers.aspx>

Q: Is a customer marketing list available?

A: A customer marketing list is only available in the Delmarva DE jurisdiction, for registered and active suppliers. You can access the list on the Delmarva DE Energy Supplier Website.

Obtaining Settlement Data

Q: Where can the supplier obtain TPS specific data, such as settlement data, account validation, et al?

A: You can access secure data by logging into the following site:

ACE - <https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

Delmarva – <https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

Pepco - <https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

Q: How can the supplier get Daily and Monthly Settlement Reports for the jurisdiction(s)?

A: The ACE settlement reports are daily and can be accessed at the supplier secure website:

<https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

The Delmarva settlement reports are daily and can be accessed at the supplier secure website:

<https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

The Pepco settlement reports are monthly and be accessed at the supplier secure website:

<https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

Q: How can the supplier obtain current losses and UFE data for all the PHI utilities.

A: The UFE is posted in the Supplier Secured Site:

ACE - <https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

Delmarva – <https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

Pepco - <https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/suppliersupport/>

Q: What is the maximum number of months of interval data a supplier can obtain?

A: PHI will supply 12 months of historical data, if available.

Q: What are Load Profiles?

A: Load Profiles are representative hourly load values (determined by statistical sampling) for each rate class that are used to convert total monthly consumption into hourly load values for a given customer; whose metering does not record usage on an hourly basis (i.e., does not have interval metering, there may be a communication issue with existing meter, etc.).

Q: What is a Proxy Day?

A: A proxy day is a historic day with similar attributes as the current day in question from which to retrieve customer and profile data when current data is unavailable.

Q: What are the PLC effective dates?

A: The iCAP (Capacity) is effective 06/01 to 05/31 of the following year. The TRANS (Transmission) is effective 01/01 to 12/31. We start sending out 814 change requests, for active account, approximately 2 weeks before the effective date.

Billing Related

Q. If the jurisdiction has POR, when will the supplier be paid?

A. The supplier will be paid 5 calendar days after the due date on the bill.

Q: Are there any distinguishing numbers in the account numbers/SAID #'s that denote the state that the account is located?

A: There is nothing distinguishable in the account numbers. However, within the portal, there is an account look up feature that you can run that will give you the jurisdiction and rate.

Q: If PHI generates a cancel/rebill, do I need to respond with a n 867 cancel?

A: If you are in a Purchase of Receivables (POR) state, you do not need to respond. The cancellation will automatically be processed. Delaware is non-POR; therefore, you will need to respond to all 867 cancels.

Q: How is excess generation paid in each jurisdiction?

A: Negative net metered consumption is communicated to suppliers on the 867 MU/IU.

State	Who Pays Credit
DC	Supplier pays any generation credit on monthly invoice to customer.
	Supplier switch date is the anniversary date and suppliers should begin tracking the usage for pay out, if applicable, one year from that date or at the time a customer drops.
Delaware	Should the customer contact PHI with a request to change the anniversary date, Supplier Relations will notify suppliers via email of the new anniversary date and suppliers will begin using that date as the anniversary date.

Maryland	Utility will track and pay out credit in April.
New Jersey	Supplier switch date is the anniversary date and suppliers should begin tracking the usage for pay out, if applicable, one year from that date or at the time a customer drops. Should the customer contact PHI with a request to change the anniversary date, Supplier Relations will notify suppliers via email of the new anniversary date and suppliers will begin using that date as the anniversary date.

Q: Can the suppliers see bills online?

A: The Bill View feature is only available in Maryland. You must be a registered supplier and you can access it at this link: <https://webapps.pepcoholdings.com/login/tps/Default.aspx>

Q: Where can the supplier find meter reading schedules and holiday schedules?

A: The schedules can be accessed by using these links:

ACE - <https://www.atlanticcityelectric.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/RegisteredSuppliers.aspx>

Delmarva – <https://www.delmarva.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/DE/RegisteredSuppliers.aspx>

Pepco - <https://www.pepco.com/DoingBusinessWithUs/Pages/DC/RegisteredSuppliers.aspx>

Q: What are PHI Bankruptcy Rules?

A: When a customer files bankruptcy, a post-petition bankruptcy account is created and an email request from SupplierBankruptcy@exeloncopr.com for enrollment is sent to the supplier that was on the pre-petition final bill. The supplier is given the option of enrolling the post-petition account. We will back date the account to the start date of the post-petition activation.

Q: How do we know an account is tax exempt?

A: If a customer is tax exempt with us, they are also exempt from supplier taxes.
